Friendly Fritz

Today George Willard is executive vice-president of Multi-Millions Industry. True, his father-in-law owns the corporation. But everyone knows that George Willard only got to the top because of his genius. He knows how to make the correct decision when other big men would hesitate. And in any financial emergency he keeps cool and knows just what to do. He is happily married to Elaine Forster. And they have three wonderful kids.

Turn back the clock of time ten years. He was only 19 then and head - over - heels in love with Elaine. He didn't even have a job. But one thing he knew. He was going to marry her. And one thing her father knew. George Willard better stay away from the house or there would be trouble.

And trouble came in the figure of Fritz, A gigantic Shepherd dog. Well trained to obey the orders of his master. And it all took place on the night of July 19th. David Forster came home earlier than expected. Out in the garden he saw his daughter and the man he disliked kissing each other. So he went right into action. Got hold of his dog. Took the leash off the collar of his dog and gave him one order: "Get him, Fritz!"

There comes a time in the life of any man when he faces a very critical situation. What do do? How to meet it in the best possible manner. And just then the inside genius of the young man showed its true worth.

"Sit down, Fritz," he snapped. "That is an order. You obey only me."

And right there and then, David Forster recognized the true worth of the young man.

All Tied Up

There are some words or phrases which have a double meaning. Taken in one sense - they mean one thing. Taken in another sense they mean something else. If you have a big unabridged dictionary you will find words with as many as fifteen different meanings. Sometimes it is most important that a person understand the correct meaning of something that is said. As this story will illustrate.

Dr. Howard Kaitz was a very well known dentist. And he was one of the leaders in his profession. At ten in the morning two armed men entered his office.

"Don't resist," said one of the thugs. "We won't hurt you if you give us all your cash. We will tie you up."

Which they proceeded to do. One did this with some rope he had brought with him for the job, and the second thug kept his gun at the head of the female receptionist. The phone rang.

"I must answer it," she said. "Otherwise they may think something is wrong."

The voice at the other end wanted an appointment at once. It was an emergency. Face was beginning to swell.

"I am sorry," said the receptionist. "No appointment possible. Dr. Kaitz is all tied up. He can't see you. There are other dentists in the neighborhood. Try Dr. Winslow. Dr. Kaitz is all tied up. He can't answer you."

The two thugs left with more than $3,000 in cash and a lot of other items. Walked into the arms of the police. Detective Frank Harrison wanted that appointment. He figured two things out: First, the dentist could really be tied up. Second, Dr. Winslow had been dead for more than a year. No appointment with him — unless . . .

The Trip

There were only three people in the waiting room at that hour of the night. The Station Master was very observant. From their actions he could tell that they had been celebrating. They were very well dressed. One of the trio came up to him.

"The express train. The express train. The one that goes so fast to Philadelphia. Will it be on time? Very important to get it."

"It will be on time. It will leave here at exactly 2:30. So just keep an eye on your two friends. I want nothing to happen to them."

He went back to join his two friends who were doing their best to keep their eyes open. Then five minutes later he came up to the Station Master again.

"You can buy tickets on the train? Yes or no? Please tell me."

"You can purchase tickets on the train. Slight additional charge for the service. I will see they get on that train."

The 2:30 train for Philadelphia rolled into the station. The Station Master was most obliging. He helped the other two men into the train. Then saw they were seated and went back to the platform. The train left for its destination. He returned to the one man.

"No more worry," he said to him. "You did a good job. Coming here to see your friends get on the train. Now return home."

"I live in Philadelphia," he replied. "They live here. They come to see I get safely on the train. Oh, woe is me!"

"Look who's smiling now!"

Sometimes a man sets his ambitions high enough to make skeptics smile. But how often he gets the last laugh! One outstanding LaSalle graduate writes: "At the time I started studying with LaSalle, I was working as a factory clerk. Before completing the course I was transferred to cost accounting and my salary was increased by $1800. Now, having completed the course, I'm in charge of the department and on my way. LaSalle's course helped me pull myself out of a boring and ill-paid job into a position of opportunity."

The words in quotes come directly from one of the pleased reports that are sent to us by LaSalle graduates. LaSalle files contain many letters from men and women who have moved ahead with the help of LaSalle training. You, too, can prepare for the career opportunity of your choice through LaSalle home study – without interfering with your present work – and by devoting only a little of your spare time.

LaSalle has been a leader in home education for more than sixty years, enrolling over 2,000,000 ambitious men and women in its many courses. You study under the supervision of LaSalle's experienced faculty. Upon satisfactory completion of your study, you receive the LaSalle diploma – a respected credential.

Mailing the LaSalle postage-paid coupon alongside may be the first step toward preparing yourself for a better job, and the many good things that go with success. Simply check the program in which you are most interested, to receive a valuable free booklet describing the opportunities in that field. There is no obligation. LaSalle, 417 S. Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois 60605.
